SHANNON, Ireland, Feb. 26 (P)—An Italian airliner, bound for New York with 52 persons aboard crashed and exploded today in a tiny Irish cemetery, scattering bodies "like a scene from hell." Twenty-six of those aboard the Alitalia airliner were killed in the crash, and three others died after being brought to hospitals. Of the 23 survivors, many lay near death, horribly burned and broken. The airline said 12 of the 40 passengers were Americans, but it

Middle-Aged Couple Wins Little Scamp Sweepstakes

BOSTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Excitement, joy and frenzied tail-wagging marked the end of the "Little Scamp Sweepstakes" when a middle-aged couple won the prize of $100,000. The couple, who had been waiting for the prize since the sweepstakes was first announced in 1964, were notified of their win by a letter from the American Humane Society, which is the sponsor of the sweepstakes. The couple, who live in a small town in New England, were overjoyed to receive the news. They had been waiting for the prize since the sweepstakes was first announced in 1964. Castro Spells Tough Policy On Investors

HAVANA, Feb. 25 (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro declared yesterday that any foreign private capital coming into Cuba in the future will be "delivered to the nation" and invested as it sees fit.

Castro bitterly attacked foreign investors in a two-hour-and-a-half-hour speech to 7,000 unidentified workers in the Granma movie theater—one of the shortest major televised appearances he has ever made.

"Private foreign capital is motivated neither by generosity nor by charity but by a desire to aid the people," he said. "Private foreign capital is invested to help its investors."

The investors... set conditions to increase their gains and to take them away, extracting the juice from the country, indefinitely.

Castro's stand was expected to end private foreign investment in Cuba. Although the new conditions for investment have not yet been defined, it appeared unlikely that they would prove attractive to investors.

The premier made no mention in today's speech of the fate of existing investments in Cuba. He had announced previously that at least 51 per cent of all "basic industries" will be taken over by the government, but has not said what will happen to the producers of consumer goods.

Boy Saves Family From Home Blaze

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (U)—A 12-year-old boy, carrying his baby sister in his arms, saved four members of his family from a fire that destroyed their home yesterday.

Thomas Mohr, a seventh-grade schoolboy, awakened in his suburban Forest Park home and found his room in flames.

Thomas carried his 10-month-old sister, Patricia, and led his brother, Michael, 10, to safety. He re-entered the dwelling to awaken his father, Howard, 38, and mother, Ruth.

When Thomas and his father left the house, they heard Mrs. Mohr screaming in an upstairs bedroom. The father returned indoors and found his wife overcome with smoke. He pushed her through a window and then jumped out behind her because fire had blocked the stairway.

Both parents landed in snow. Mrs. Mohr was unhurt, but her husband cut a leg.

Hopeful Prefers No Gas Tax Hike

BLACKFOOT, Feb. 25 (U)—A candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator says he would prefer reductions in tax-free depletion allowances given oil producers to another increase in the tax on gasoline.

State Rep. Greig Peterson, D-Power, said yesterday, "Petroleum producers are given preferential treatment over all other mining interests."

"Oil well owners receive 27½ per cent of the income of the well tax-free. Minerals mined here in Idaho receive far less. For instance, phosphate producers receive only 15 per cent."

He spoke to a meeting of the Blighian county Democratic central committee here.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UPI)—The tough political arena was laced yesterday with perfume and powder for what may turn out to be the liveliest—if not the most unusual—battles for a senate seat in years.

For the first time in American politics, two women will vie for a senate seat—the one held by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me.

The stage for this political powderpuff derby was set in Maine Wednesday night when a gray-haired former school-marm announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination in an attempt to oust the veteran Mrs. Smith from the seat she has held since 1948.

Rail Company Notes Refund Of 86 Million

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (UP)—A New York Central railroad spokesman yesterday said the company's board of directors approved a $86 million refund to the road in 1958.

The refund came to light in a disclosure made by the committee on internal revenue taxation, which disclosed the refund was made to the company in 1958. The refund was made to the company in 1958.

A Central spokesman explained that the road had obtained "certificates of necessity" from the government to expand its facilities during the World War II era. These were to be amortized over 25 years.

When the war ended, the government permitted the railroad, as well as other railroads and industries, to write off the facilities in the year they were built. The Central applied for tax credits and refunds against prior excess profits taxes.

This gave the Central the $86-million-dollar refund, which was included in the 1958 accounts. Government bureaus apparently did not get the refund until 1958, the Central spokesman said.

Corporations in the committee's tabulation for the 12 months which ended June 30, 1958, in addition to the New York Central, nine corporations got refunds of $1.5 billion in excess of interest payments of more than three million dollars each.

Mental Health Group Slates March 4 Meet
GOODING, Feb. 26—A move telling the case story of the adjustments made by a former mental patient returning to his home community will be shown at a meeting of the Gooding Mental Health Association Friday evening, March 4, at the school auditorium.

The movie is shown in connection with the county sponsorship of "New Horizons," a club for former mental patients, the chairman noted.

Organizations in Gooding county are invited to send a representative to the meeting to plan a county-wide rehabilitation program in this area. A preview of the state mental health convention to be held in Idaho Falls March 11 and 12 will be presented.

The meeting has been arranged from March 3 to avoid conflict with the Hagerman PTA meeting when the mental health association will present Dale Goodson, guidance counselor in the Glenns Ferry school. He will describe how a public school can serve as a preventive agency for most mental health and juvenile problems.

Check Asked For Defense Unit Expense

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UP)—Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., yesterday requested the release of the defense department furnish government auditors with information on the military assistance program.

Moss heads the house government information subcommittee. In a letter to Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates, Jr., he recalled that the department in the past has refused to give the general accounting office information sought to evaluate the military aid program.

The GAO is an agency of congress created to keep a check on financial expenditures of all executive agencies.

Moss said a new GAO report discloses "the waste of millions of dollars worth of military equipment—due to the failure of the United States officials to take into account reductions in military forces."

It is impossible for congress or its GAO auditors, Moss continued, "to determine whether this is the unfortunate waste incident to military preparations or whether it is inefficiency, or worse."

Moss said the latest GAO report for information was dated July 2, 1959. Gates took office last Dec. 2.

Moss expressed hope that Gates would abandon the argument of the previous administration that privilege justifies withholding information from congress.

$249,000 Aid For Cuba Air Cadets Listed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (U)—The United States was reported by government officials yesterday to be spending $249,000 this year on training air Cuban cadets in the Corps of Cadets, U.S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

This is an average of over $410,000 per year, according to the report.

Lincoln White, state department press officer, gave reporters that explanation of why a recent department report listed a $249,000 military aid allotment to Cuba.

The report, which also listed other aid, brought a senate speech yesterday from Sen. Wayne Morse, D., Ore., protesting that military aid to Latin-American nations apparently has been increased in what Morse called "flagrant violation of the mutual security act."

Morse is a member of the senate foreign relations committee, and is chairman of the committee's Latin-American affairs subcommittee.

He said congress specifically provided last year that military aid funds to Latin-American nations should not be increased, and that military aid to Cuba had ceased in March, 1949, because of its "unfriendly attitude toward the United States."

He said published figures on the defense department report showed Cuba received a military aid allotment of $249,000 in the 1950 fiscal year ended last June 30 and is getting $249,000 in the current fiscal year.

Morse said, the Dominican Republic was listed as receiving $1,000,000 in military aid in the 1950 fiscal year.

Court Ruling On Contested Will Affirmed

A decision by Probate Judge J. Dean Mosher declaring the will of William M. Lundin valid was upheld Wednesday by District Judge Theodor Ward. Judge Mosher's decision was appealed to the higher court by Mrs. Ada Lundin, mother of the deceased.

Mrs. Lundin contested the will on the grounds that her son was incompetent and under the influence of Miss Emma C. Wagner, one of the beneficiaries named in the will.

The terms of the will granted a house and lot in Twin Falls, household furniture and fixtures, and a 1938 Ford to Miss Emma C. Wagner. Total value of the bequest was estimated at $10,000.

Mrs. Lundin received an 80-acre farm in Twin Falls county appraised at $40,000, preferred stock in Idaho Power company valued at $15,000 and $30,000 cash. The will also bequeathed $8,000 to a niece, Pamela Von Jan, and the balance of the proceeds from the sale of a farm southwest of Hazelton to a sister, Mrs. Jewell Von Jan.

Rayborn and Rayborn represented Mrs. Lundin and C. P. Davall represented Miss Wagner.

Ghost Writing For Students Being Probed

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (U)—The district attorneys office has seized the books of four ghost-writing agencies in a probe of charges that college students and professors have had them and term papers written for them for a fee.

After gathering up the records of the four unidentified agencies yesterday, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said the investigation started about three weeks ago on information from the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Alex Benson, 32, a staff writer for the newspaper, began an investigation two months ago posing as a ghost writer. His activities were known to Hogan, the newspaper said, and the money Benson earned was turned over to the district attorney.

Benson said his investigation disclosed:

Cheating scholars pay up to $2,000 to agencies for writing their term papers for them, and the agencies necessary for doctorates, and smaller amounts for master's theses.

College students pay from $50 to $250 for ghost-written term papers, and the agencies have been asked to substitute for a student, at a final exam at Teachers college, an affidavit from the New York State Education department.

Benson also charged that one college professor at a Southwestern university had been paid $1,250 for rewriting of his doctoral thesis.

Ike Comforts Survivors of Plane Mishap

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 26 (U.S. President Eisenhower and President Kubitschek—United in address—last night raced back from Sao Paulo to a somber capital to comfort the three American survivors of the mid-air collision between a U. S. navy transport and a Brazilian commercial airplane in heavy fog and rain near Sugar Loaf mountain.

They dashed to Miguel Couto hospital to see the three American survivors.

When President Eisenhower stopped at each of their bedside and asked them their names and homes, they identified themselves as:

Aviation Ordnance Man L. C. H. R. Halena, Norfolk, Va., 2nd Lieutenant Albert Wilson, sonar man, Duluth, Minn., Lieut. J. G. George P. Fitzgibbon, 25, Worcester, Mass.

The two presidents were met on the steps of the modernistic white stone hospital by the director, Dr. Nova Monteiro, who told them as they hastened up in an elevator that the three men were in good shape physically but in a state of shock and under heavy sedation.

They evidently knew the identity of their visitors as all answers with military "Yes, sir." attempted warm smiles as Eisenhower said that he and Kubitschek had hurried there as they heard the news to see how they were getting along.

The three survivors had bruises and scratches on their faces and hands but no burns and it was not immediately apparent how they escaped and were rescued.

Forcing a smile, Eisenhower said, "That was a tragic thing and I am glad you survived."

U. S., Japan Pact Attacked by Russ

TOKYO, Feb. 26 (U.S. The Soviet Union's attack on the new U.S.-Japan treaty for signing a military treaty with the United States. The Japanese foreign office promptly rejected the new Soviet statement as utterly unjustifiable.

This Japanese foreign office statement is a direct challenge to the Soviet-Japanese exchange on the treaty signed in Washington last month. It continues the right of the United States to station troops here.

The treaty is now the subject of fierce political debate in the Japanese parliament. The Soviet note was designed to influence that debate.

Ike's Tragedy-Tempered Trip Raises U. S.-Brazil Relations

By STANFORD BRADSHAW Associated Press Staff Writer President Eisenhower's tragedy-tempered visit to Brazil appears to have raised U.S.-Brazilian relations to a time new high.

It also has set a high standard for the other three stops—Argentina, Uruguay and Chile—on his four-nation, 15,000-mile tour.

Although some problems remain between the hemisphere's two biggest nations, the differences have showed into the background for the moment.

First came the enthusiastic reception for the American President in Brasilia, Rio, and Sao Paulo.

Then came the tragic plane collision yesterday that took 81 American and Brazilian lives.

Word of the disaster over Rio's Guanabara bay broke off the key talks between Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Minister Eusebio Lora. But these talks on both Inter-American and U.S.-Brazilian affairs are expected to resume when Lafer visits Washington late in March.

During Eisenhower's visit, Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek repeated his strong bid, with signs of initial success, for greater U. S. support for his cooperative plan for hemispheric economic development. Known as Operation Pan-America.

In the Inter-American field, Eisenhower sounded a note for some joint hemisphere plan to counter communist subversion. He also repeated U. S. desires for disarmament and the use of arms money for economic development, goals he is expected to underscore at the other stops on his tour.

Concerning U.S.-Brazilian relations, Brazil is understood to have explored the possibility of future loans from U. S. agencies as well as help for the government-owned oil industry. Brazilian sources said a memorandum would be submitted to Herter but declined to specify what it would say.

Brazil, traditionally close to the United States, had appeared to be drifting away in recent months. The Brazilian government has been angered by American refusal to extend credits for Brazil's industrial program unless Kubitschek adopted a financial austerity program. But Eisenhower's visit appears to have definitely stopped the drift.

Warehouse Demolished When It's Hit by Railroad Car

A Union Pacific freight car being "spotted" by crewmen jumped the track and smashed into this 40-by-121-foot cinderblock building owned by Growers warehouse of Jerome Tuesday, demolishing the structure and exposing 23,000 sacks of peas stored there. The only part of the building not damaged was the concrete floor. The roof rests on stacks of peas. The damage has not been estimated. Owner R. G. Freeman said the building will have to be rebuilt. (Staff photo-entourage)

Producers of Grade A Milk Ranked High

Dairy grade A milk producers in the jurisdiction of the southern health department scored in the upper eight per cent of the United States, according to Keith Harvey, acting director.

Dairies were scored an average of 85 per cent during an annual survey in November, which qualifies them for interstate shipment to cooperating states.

The survey was conducted by Kenneth Pool, Boise, sanitation supervisor from the Idaho department of public health. The sanitation rating was certified by the U. S. public health service Dec. 15.

Dairies scored were Smith Dairy, Buhl; Young's Dairy, Twin Falls; and Jerome Cooperative Dairy, Jerome.

Harvey said the rating totals he received this week were not individually scored. The dairy farm milk producers of each company surveyed were checked for practices of enforcement personnel. The sanitation rating of the plants pasteurizing grade A milk was 94 per cent.

Super-Trawler Is Urged for Fishing

SEATTLE, Feb. 26 (U. S. A.)—A group of Pacific Northwest fishing industry leaders yesterday urged federal construction of a large, refrigerated super-trawler to compete with Russian fishermen in the Bering sea.

James C. Talbot, Bellingham chairman of the industry group, said construction of the U. S. super-trawler was the only alternative to losing our historic fishing rights in the Bering sea by default.

Talbot and his group said there has been increasing concern among U. S. fishermen since the Russians moved a large fishing fleet into the Bering sea last year. Japanese fishermen have been taking bottomfish and king crab in the Bering for years.

Delay Not Caused by Highway Work

BOISE, Feb. 26 (U. S. A.)—Highway construction work is causing little delay in travel on routes where projects are under way, the state highway department, said yesterday.

Traffic schedules, with delays likely, are in effect on only two of the 28 projects which are now active, the department said. They involve state route 17 between Banks and Garden Valley and state 14, between Grangeville and Elk City.

Among the 28 projects are eight on the interstate system, two in the north, two in the southwest and state convention in Twin Falls, four in the southeast.

Viet Nam Aid Plan Blasted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UPI)—A senate subcommittee today criticized the foreign aid program in Viet Nam for lack of planning.

"shocking" delays, and possible loss or waste of millions of U. S. tax dollars.

The report complained of a highway project marked by "hasty and inadequate planning" which left the U. S. taxpayer "defenseless" against waste. It said investigation of a radio project unsubstantiated allegations of "rigged bids, suggestions of misuse of public funds and charges of favoritism."

The report also sharply attacked the billion-dollar-a-year operation of the U. S. commissary in Saigon, and what is called "extortion" housing furnished American personnel.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D. Mont., began its investigation last summer after publication of a series of newspaper dispatches by Scripps-Howard writer Albert M. Colgrove reporting alleged waste and mismanagement in the Viet Nam aid program.

As early as 1957 Pennsylvania legalized driving vehicles on the right hand side of the road.

ELEVENVILLE, N. Y., Feb. 26 (UPI)—A volunteer fireman who, police said, "loves to fight fires" was charged with arson last night in the setting of 12 fires, the worst of which caused $75,000 damage.

Police Chief Frank Groppe said Herman Kron, 29, a member of the Elevenville volunteer fire department, admitted setting the fires because "he just loves to light fires" and then "help put them out."

Wood River's Music Group To Begin Membership Drive

KETCHUM, Feb. 26—A. W. Engelsen, Jr., president of the Wood River Music association, announces that memberships in the association for the coming season may be obtained for a limited time, starting Monday.

The Engelsen, Davies and Engelsen, Dorothy in Valley will be headquarters for that community. The Sun Valley Shopping center will be headquarters for the Ketchum-Sun Valley area. A private telephone for the association will be installed in the shopping center.

As a bonus, persons who purchase 1960 memberships may attend the last recital of the 1959 season at the LDS recreational hall in Sun Valley at 4 p.m. March 6.

William Clauson, celebrated Swedish-American balladist and guitarist who has been dubbed "The Viking of Song," and probably is the world's most traveled troubadour, will be guest artist.

The curtains have risen on the concert stages of four continents to reveal the 20-year-old folksinger-actor whose remarkable adaptability to the language, character and patois of each-and every people has catapulted him into the top ranks of folk music interpreters, Engelsen said.

Born in Ashtabula, O., he was reared in Sweden, and evidenced his taste for music at the age of 6.

He made a youthful debut as a mandolin artist followed by his parts in 25 films.

He served in the armed forces in Texas, where he made the acquaintance of Mexico's alluring folk songs.

With an honorable discharge and a collection of Mexican songs added to the Swedish, American and English tunes in his repertoire, he embarked upon his first European tour in 1954 and hit the jackpot with his Festival hall appearance in London.

Later he starred in "Wild Grows the Heather." He was the only American to win a Brit Award.

Clauson constantly adds new songs and new sounds to his huge collection.

U.S. Olympic Hockey Team Downs Canada 2-1, Takes Undisputed Tourney Lead

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., Feb. 26 (AP)—The U.S. ice hockey team stunned world champion Canada 2-1 Thursday on the great defensive work of goalie Jack McCartan and took the undisputed lead of the Olympic round robin tournament. With three straight victories, the surprising Yanks had a one-point edge over the defending champion Russians, whom they play Saturday. The Soviets were tied Wednesday night by Sweden 2-2 but beat Germany 7-1 Thursday. McCartan, from St. Paul, Minn., made 39 saves in the fiercely fought battle before a crowd of 8,200 at Blyth arena.

In gold medal skating and skiing finals earlier, Russia and Finland divided honors, and Dave Jenkins, Colorado Springs, Colo., skated into position to take the figure skating crown Friday.

Jenkins goes into the free skating final needing to overcome the lead of the Czechoslovakian built-up in compulsory figures.

Victor Kozachenko, a 22-year-old electrician from Moscow, won the 5,000-meter speed skating title with a brilliant 7 minutes 51.2 seconds. Knut Johansson of Norway was second in 8:03 and Jan Pennekamp of the Netherlands third with 8:05.1.

A veteran Finnish skier, Veljo Haahtela, made up 20 seconds on his leg of the 40-kilometer (25.8 miles) men's relay ski race and then outdistanced Hovius of Norway in the stretch to win by a new and sudden. The Finnish team was timed in 2 hours, 18 minutes, 45.6 seconds. Norway was clocked in 2:18:46.4. Russia was third in 2:21:21.6.

The United States finished last in the 11-team field. Jenkins performed so well on the last two of his five compulsory figures that he took over fourth place in the standings from Alain Giletti of France and out of the lead.

The standings were: Divin 797.7, Jenkins 710.2 and Giletti 701.2. Don Jackson of Canada, a spectacular free skater, was fourth in the standings, followed by Tim Brown, Sacramento, Calif.

Russia, with the team title already won, placed 17 points in the last two finals while the United States drew a blank.

Russia now leads in the unofficial team standings with a total of 137 points on 10 for first and 11 for second in the compulsory figures. The Russians have six gold medals—twice as many as Germany, which has a second in points with 51.4.

The United States held third place with 44 points, followed by Sweden 42, Norway 32, Finland 30, Poland 20, Italy 19, Canada 18, Poland 13, the Netherlands 11, Japan 6, and Czechoslovakia 3.

Coach Is Not Disappointed In Ski Squad

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., Feb. 26 (AP)—The United States ski team finished 11th and last in the 10-kilometer men's cross-country relay event of the winter games Thursday.

"We would have liked to beat at least one team," Coach Sven Wilk said.

"It's not a happy feeling to finish last, but I'm not disappointed. We did just about the time we expected."

The American foursome finished the race—won by Finland in 2:18:45.5—in 2:38:01.8.

During the time the U.S. skiers in running order saw athletes Mack Miller, McCall, Ida, and Crested Butte, Colo., clock 37:16 for the first 10 kilometers. He was followed by Bob Boklin, Minneapolis, 40:47, John DeBailly, Boulder, Colo., 38:11, and Peter Lindgren, Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., 40:50.

"Miller's performance was especially pleasing," said Wilk, "who gave a seventh place effort, but none of the other three had ever raced in an international competition, so they didn't have the experience necessary for the starting position."

"We must learn to develop the ability to handle skis with a minimum of exertion for as long as possible," he said. "The difference still is very evident."

Utah Tops BYU

PROVO, Utah, Feb. 26 (AP)—Fifth-ranked Utah led by eight points or more throughout the game Thursday night as it defeated Brigham Young University 87-57 in a Skyline conference basketball game.

The Redskins remained tied with eighth-ranked Utah State for the Skyline leadership. Each has a 10-1 record in conference play.

The United States struck gold for the first time in the eighth winter Olympic games in Squaw Valley as Carol Heiss clinched the gold first-place medal in the women's figure skating. Stith Cuts Scoring Lead of Robertson

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Oscar Robertson's lead over Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure in the major college basketball scoring race has been cut to a mere 2.6 points a game, the weekly statistics released by the NCAA service bureau showed Thursday. Through last Saturday's games, Robertson had 769 points in 22 games for a 34.9 average. Stith had 574 points in 18 games for a 31.9 mark. Stith has gained considerable ground on his Cincinnati rival in the past two weeks. Since Feb. 8, the Bonnies' stars has averaged 36.8 points a game to only 19.7 for Robertson.

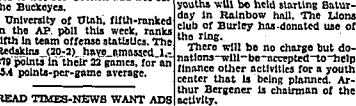

Very tame, Ohio State's brilliant sophomore, continues to set the pace in field goal accuracy with a 67 percentage. While Jack Waters of Mississippi is the free throw leader for the fourth straight week with 84.

Leroy Wright of College of the Pacific has just about wrapped up his second straight rebound championship despite a knee injury that probably will keep him sidelined for the remainder of the season. Wright has a 234 mark to 199 for runner-up Dave DeBusschere of Detroit.

Ohio State retained its team of field goals with 482. Iowa of New Orleans, N.Y., took over the top spot in rebounds from Ohio State with 501 to 585 for Cornell and 583 for the Buckeyes.

University of Utah, fifth-ranked in the AP poll this week, ranks fifth in team offense statistics. The Redskins (20-2) have averaged 89.5 points in their 22 games, for an 85.4 points-per-game average.

Stripping Archie's Title Could Cause King-Sized Headache for Boxing Unit

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (NEA)—Sending poor old Archie Moore into seclusion, stripped of his light-heavyweight title, could give the tenuous National Boxing association a severe headache of its own. The Moore maneuver was impetuous enough to make boxing chronicler Nat Fleischer shudder. "Never in the 30-odd years of its existence has the NBA acted on such quick notice."

We don't know whether that's good or bad. Most of the time it's tough enough to get this unwieldy body, that presumably speaks for 47 states, to do anything at all.

The backwash might even kill it, for when the NBA convenes in executive session in New York on March 5, a few of the states are going to want to know exactly why they should stick on the venerable quadrangleman, so full of bluster but always entertaining, who defended his title as recently as Aug. 12.

Moore and Ray Robinson are not the only fighters in memory who had their titles taken away because they didn't fight, but maybe this is the way the NBA figures it can weed out the old boys in the ring.

Charley (Phil) Rosenberg once lost a bantamweight title right in his back yard before he ever got in the ring—when he stepped on the scales before defending against a bulky Cuban, and the needle fluttered retroactively past 118 pounds.

Mickey Ward has a title taken away from him by New York, when he was a welterweight, for skipping the Garden. Then Shadé fought an elimination with Jimmy Jones, got beaten, but Jones broke his hand.

So they put Shadé in with a pug named Ward in Birmingham, which Danny went to meet him. Walker was ready to meet him, and Mickey promptly re-claimed the title.

Still with us? The confused state of boxing has been with us quite some time.

When Jake LaMotta was the middleweight champ, in 1950, Philadelphia wanted to promote a Robinson-Robert Villamain title bout.

Pennsylvania declared the middleweight crown vacant, conveniently pulled out of the NBA, and Robinson, the thinner, became middleweight champion of the world—from Philadelphia west to Pittsburgh.

Which takes us right back to what's wrong with the NBA. The member states are obedient to its mandates only so long as they're not affected.

California has already seceded and is trying to inflate secession up and down the Pacific coast. Massachusetts indicated when the NBA wouldn't okay Tony DeMarco-Virgil Alkins for the welterweight title, Michigan once pulled out. (New York, of course, has never been in.)

As long as such unilateral actions are possible—and members can get away with them, then get welcomed back into the fold—the NBA as a national governing body of boxing is a joke. Even Archie crypt out of seclusion long enough to muller he could make just as much money without their title.

The incoherence of the NBA verdict upsetting Moore is a precedent to everyone but Tony Macaroni, the president of the NBA. Jockey Johnson hasn't fought since last June 26, so why should his heavyweight crown be lifted?

At Archie, why not Davey Moore, too? The featherweight champ hasn't defended since last Aug. 1. "No one has come up with an

Holding Out

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 26 (AP)—Mickey Mantle has not signed his 1960 contract with the New York Yankees and says "I don't think I'll be signed by Monday."

The Yankee infielders and outfielders are due at the club's spring training camp in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Tuesday. Mantle would not be considered a holdout, unless he failed to take the flight with the players Wednesday.

offer to fight him. A source high in the NBA pow wows told us that Macaroni and the other Tony, Petronella, also on the committee that stripped Moore, acted under pressure from Alfred Johnson, a Pennsylvania commissioner pushing a title bout for Harold Johnson, a Philadelphia who's already lost to Moore four times.

Does the public clamor supporting old Archie bother them? "Lincoln did the same thing. Petronella shot back defiantly. "There hasn't been former light titles taken away."

That's funny. Sometimes we wonder if there are even enough fighters around to fill them all.

Rory Calhoun To Fight Webb In Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26 (AP)—Rory Calhoun will carry four more rounds into the cow palace ring Friday night against Spider Webb than he did here Jan. 20, 1959, when he deked Webb twice before being knocked out.

It's banking on the added weight for victory and a shot at Gene Fullmer's NBA middleweight title.

"When I hit Webb this time, I intend to keep him down," promised Calhoun, who, after the 10 p.m. (PST) first-round bell at 154 pounds.

"I can make 160 but I'm not as strong at that weight."

Calhoun's manager, Frank Buchman, says if Webb doesn't show more than he did in losing the title fight to Fullmer Dec. 4 at Logan, Utah, "he'll wind up flat on his back."

But Hee Knowles, Webb's manager, has an explanation for that showing.

"He (Webb) kept hearing that he had to knock out Fullmer to win and that body punches would be called foul. So instead of boxing he kept trying to land that right hand whenever Fullmer came off the ropes."

The scheduled 10-round bout will be the third meeting of the two. Webb dethroned Calhoun in 1958. Webb was originally sched-

Dodgers, Dressen Are Embroiled In War of Words

By United Press International

They've taken the Dodgers out of Brooklyn but they can't take Brooklyn out of the Dodgers. Here it is barely the opening of the spring training season—a run-out fast ball has yet to be thrown—and the Dodgers are embroiled in a war of words.

Their antagonist is an old pal, Charley Dressen—who left them as coach to manage the Milwaukee Braves.

And the "needle" which got under the Dodgers' skin was a story in a national magazine in which Dressen stated, "The Dodgers can't repeat."

"What's blabber mouth got to say now?" asked outfielder Carl Furillo. "He's always popping off. The typical New York State case is that I'll keep us alive."

"You can't win by talking," quipped Walt Rucker, who then neatly sidestepped further debate with Charley the talker.

"I think you're kidding," said outfielder Wally Moon who hit 302 last season. "I don't think I'm a nobody. I'm a star."

Vice president Presco Thompson, says to have the best on post back a handful of bars at Dressen.

"Managing in the majors is a tough job but to manage two clubs is twice as tough," said Thompson. "I think you're kidding."

End to Food Price Decline Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UPI)—Retail food prices will stop falling this year and remain at about the 1959 level, the agriculture department forecast yesterday.

The department predicted the price of food itself would remain about steady in 1960. But it said the cost of processing and distributing the food probably would continue to inch upward.

Prices drop in '59

Food prices last year fell about 2 1/2 per cent below the 1958 level, the department said in its publication "The National Food Situation."

This reflected lower prices paid to farmers. Food marketing charges jumped one per cent.

But increases in other prices more than offset the drop in food costs and the cost of living went up one per cent.

Meat, eggs, food fats and oils, fruits, vegetables and beverages were among the food that registered noticeable price declines last year.

Some Prices Rise

The prices of sugar, sweets, cereals and bakery products went up. Dairy product prices remained about the same.

The department said civilians were likely to have as much livestock products per capita this year as last.

Increases were in prospect for beef, veal, lamb and mutton and turkey. The per capita supplies of dairy products, chickens and hard were expected to be about the same as in 1959. Some decline was indicated for pork.

Pronunciation of Uruguay, Steaks Are Henry's Concern

By HENRY McLEMORE

I listened to the President's speech just before he took off for South America, and I'll have to admit that I was a bit disappointed.

All the way through it I kept listening for the President to mention what I consider a "must" on his journey to our good neighbors down below.

But he never got around to it. He skipped it entirely in favor of what he obviously considers a bigger and more pressing problem, such as aid, security, protection, friendship. I wish the had come right out, at the start of his speech, and said that if he didn't do another blessed thing in South America, he was going to find out, once and for all, the proper pronunciation of Uruguay.

No two people pronounce Uruguay the same way. They never have. I have been hearing of the country ever since I started geography lessons in the fourth or fifth grade, and I have yet to hear two people pronounce it alike.

That holds true for the people who live in Uruguay. It was in Montevideo I began research on the problem, but I got so entangled with how to pronounce Montevideo that I never did get around to Uruguay.

The President called it something like "You-ris-aw-yay," but a news analyst called it "Ooragwi," and a commentator called it somewhere between the two. And someone on the air said it real fast — perhaps he was unsure of himself — and came out with "Ooragay."

Now common sense tells you that we don't have much hope of building a lasting friendship with a country whose name you can't pronounce correctly. It's the same thing as trying to become close friends with a girl named Penelope and calling her Penny-lope.

It was with a man named Calliope and calling him Calli-ope.

The should ask the heads of government in Uruguay to take a vote on the pronunciation, and write it down for him, phonetically. Then, when he gets back and makes a report to the nation, he should let us have the result, said slowly and clearly. Then the White House should send the proper pronunciation to every citizen to keep for handy reference.

Montevideo is almost as troublesome. Is it "Monty" as in the field marshal, and video as in tape?

Or is it "Monty" with the video part pronounced we-day-ty?

I probably would have learned the correct pronunciation when I was in Montevideo had I not been so busy eating steak. Nowhere, not even in neighboring Argentina, is steak so bountiful and inexpensive as in Uruguay.

There is a restaurant in Montevideo, and I wish I could remember the name, that serves a steak for a dollar that is big enough for Gutzon Borglum to carve the heads of two or three presidents on it.

And, when you order it, the waiter tells you that if you can eat it all — and have your plate nice and bare — the steak is on the house.

The first time I tried to get the steak for free I was with Harvey McMillan, Charleston, W. Va., a distinguished trencherman, and rated by many West Virginians as the equal of any cater in the country.

Harvey worked in the steak for the better part of two hours and still left enough to make a cover for a pickle barrel. I barely tasted the edges of mine, although as the equal of any cater in the country, I was as tender as melted butter.

Maybe the President will eat there and get himself a steak for nothing.
